e) shall allow the voter fulfilling the conditions set by law and registered on the permanent electoral list or on the copy of the complementary electoral list to vote; to this purpose, once the voter signs in the permanent electoral list or in the copy of the complementary electoral list, (s)he shall receive the ballot papers and the 'VOTED' stamp.

(5) If, for well-founded reasons, ascertained by the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station, the voter cannot sign in the electoral list, the president shall make a note in the electoral list, confirmed by his/her signature and that of another member of the electoral bureau.

(6) Voters shall vote separately, in closed booths, by applying the 'VOTED' stamp in the quadrilateral that comprises the list of candidates or the name of the candidate (s)he wishes to vote for.

(7) The 'VOTED' stamp must be round and of such dimensions so that it should be smaller than the quadrilateral in which it is applied.

(8) After voting, voters shall fold the ballot papers so that the white page bearing the control stamp stays out, and then they shall insert them into the ballot box, making sure that they do not open.

(9) The wrong folding of the ballot paper shall not entail the ballot nullity, if the secrecy of the vote is preserved.

(10) If the ballot paper should open in such a way that the voting secrecy is no longer preserved, the ballot paper shall be annulled, and the voter shall be given, only one time, a new ballot paper, and this shall be mentioned in the report concerning the voting operations.

(11) The 'VOTED' stamp, handed over to the voter for voting, shall be returned to the president, who shall affix it to the ID document, also mentioning the election date. In the case of voters voting based on their ID cards, a self-adhesive stamp marked 'VOTED' and the election date shall be applied on the back of the card.

(12) The president may take steps so that a voter does not spend an unjustified period of time inside the polling booth.

Article 86. – (1) Malfunctions of the Computer system for monitoring turnout and preventing illegal voting cannot lead to the suspension or interruption of the voting process. In such a situation, by way of derogation from the provisions of Article 85 paragraph (2), voters shall present their ID document to the computer operator or to the member of the electoral bureau of the polling station appointed by its president, who shall insert, on electronic support or on paper, where appropriate, the personal identification numbers of the voters and the time they asked to vote. The provisions of Article 85 paragraphs (4) to (12) shall apply accordingly.

(2) The duration of the malfunction of the Computer system for monitoring turnout and preventing illegal voting shall be recorded by the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station in a report. Both the occurrence and ceasing of the malfunction of the Computer system for monitoring turnout and preventing illegal voting shall be notified, by telephone, to the hierarchically superior electoral bureau by the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station.

They must be included in the additional list by the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station, and erased from the permanent electoral list existing at the polling station that has jurisdiction over their place of domicile, upon request by the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station, sent through the Computer system for monitoring turnout and preventing illegal voting.

(2) For the Municipality of Bucharest, the president and the members of the electoral bureaus of polling stations, as well as the auxiliary technical staff and the staff in charge of maintaining order shall vote at the polling station where they carry out their activity, only if they are domiciled in the sector for which the voting takes place in that polling station. If they are not domiciled in that respective sector, these persons shall vote at the polling station of their domicile.

Article 88. – Candidates and voters have the right to challenge the identity of a person asking to vote. In such cases, the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station shall determine the identity of the person in question, by any means. If the challenge is well-grounded, the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station shall prevent the contested voter from voting, record the fact in a report, and inform police authorities.

Article 89. – (1) The president of the electoral bureau of the polling station may suspend the voting for well-founded reasons. Such suspension shall not exceed one hour and shall be notified by posting on the door of the voting premises, at least one hour before. The length of all the suspensions cannot exceed 2 hours.

(2) During the suspension, the ballot boxes, stamps, ballot papers, and all the paperwork of the electoral bureau shall remain under permanent guard, and the members of the bureau shall not leave the voting room at the same time.

(3) The persons who, according to Article 83 paragraph (5), are entitled to attend the voting shall not be forced to leave the voting room during the suspension of operations.

Article 90. – (1) The presence of any person other than the voter inside the polling booth shall be forbidden.

(2) The voter who, for well-founded reasons, ascertained by the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station, cannot vote on his/her own, is entitled to call an attendant of his/her choosing, to help him/her in the polling booth. The attendant must not be a person accredited, a member of the electoral bureau of the polling station or a candidate.

Article 91. – (1) For the voters who cannot be transported to the premises of the polling station due to an illness or disability, the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station may approve, upon their written request, accompanied by copies of documents attesting the respective medical condition or disability, that a team composed of at least 2 members of the electoral bureau should go with a special ballot box and the materials needed for voting – the ‘VOTED’ stamp and ballot papers – to the place where the voter is located, so that (s)he could vote. A single special ballot box shall be used within the jurisdiction of a polling station. Only the members of the electoral bureau of the polling station may carry the special ballot box, under escort by the staff of the Ministry of Interior.

(2) In the cases stipulated under paragraph (1), the voting shall take place based only on an excerpt drawn up by the president of the electoral bureau himself/herself from the permanent electoral list, the copy of the complementary electoral list or the additional list existing at that polling station. The excerpt shall be signed by the president and stamped, and the persons comprised in those excerpts shall be erased from the other lists existing at the polling station.

(3) Only those domiciled in the locality or in the sector of the Municipality of Bucharest where the polling station is located may vote in the manner stipulated under paragraphs (1) and (2). Citizens of the European Union must meet, as the case may be, the conditions stipulated under Article 21 paragraph (1), Article 23 paragraph (1) or Article 24 paragraphs (1) and (2).

(4) The personal identification numbers of the voters having filed applications under paragraph (1) are pre-recorded in the Computer system for monitoring turnout and preventing illegal voting, and they are finally registered upon the return, to the voting premises, of the team referred to in paragraph (1), based on the signatures in the excerpt referred to in paragraph (2).

(5) Before the team of members of the electoral bureau of the polling station heads with a special ballot box to the persons who cannot vote at the polling station according to law, the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station shall request the operator to verify whether or not those persons have already exercised their right to vote on that day.

Article 92. – (1) At 21.00 hours, the president of the electoral bureau of the polling station shall declare the voting closed and shall order the closing of the premises of the polling station.

(2) The voters who, at 21.00 hours, are inside the polling station, can exercise their right to vote.

* Amended by Government Emergency Ordinance No. 40/2019.

of Interior and hand them over to the electoral bureau of the county constituency, respectively of the constituency of the Municipality of Bucharest.

(3) Files shall be handed over to the electoral bureau of the county constituency based on a report mandatorily stating the number of files stipulated in the report mentioned under paragraph (2) and the number of files actually handed over.

Article 98. – (1) After receiving the files containing the minutes with the results of the ballot counting from all the electoral bureaus of the polling stations and after settling the challenges filed, the electoral bureaus of communal, town, municipal constituencies, of the sector constituencies of the Municipality of Bucharest, and county constituencies, respectively the electoral bureau of the constituency of the Municipality of Bucharest shall proceed to totalling the votes cast and to assigning the mandates, under this law.

(2) For this purpose, the constituency electoral bureau shall record, for the entire constituency, separately for each list of candidates or independent candidates, the number of votes obtained.

(3) The electoral bureaus of the communal, town, municipal constituencies, of the sector constituencies of the Municipality of Bucharest, respectively the electoral bureau of the constituency of the Municipality of Bucharest shall total the number of votes obtained by each candidate for the mayor's office, for the office of General Mayor of the Municipality of Bucharest, respectively for the office of president of the county council.*

(4) The activities of the constituency electoral bureau may be attended by the candidates and the persons accredited for this purpose, as well as by the persons stipulated under Article 93 paragraph (1).

Article 99. – The elections for councillors, mayors and for the presidents of the county councils shall be deemed valid, irrespective of the number of voters having participated in the voting.*

Article 100. – (1) In order to distribute the councillor mandates, the constituency electoral bureau shall establish the electoral threshold of the constituency, representing 5% of the total number of votes validly cast in that constituency. In the case of political alliances or electoral alliances, 2% shall be added to the 5% threshold for the second member of the alliance. For alliances with at least 3 members, the electoral threshold is 8%.

(2) The electoral threshold is equal to the integer, without decimals, non-rounded, resulting from multiplying the percentage points set under paragraph (1) by the total number of votes validly cast in an electoral constituency.

* Amended by Government Emergency Ordinance No. 40/2019.

(3) Mandate distribution shall be done by taking into consideration only those political parties, organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, political alliances and electoral alliances having reached the electoral threshold stipulated under paragraph (1), and independent candidates having reached the electoral quotient stipulated under point a) of paragraph (4).

(4) The distribution of councillor mandates shall be carried out as follows:

a) in the first stage, the constituency electoral bureau shall establish the number of mandates to be allotted to each list of candidates, as well as to the independent candidates, based on the electoral quotient, which is equal to the non-rounded integer, without decimals, determined by dividing the total number of validly cast votes for all the lists of candidates and for the independent candidates having reached the electoral threshold by the total number of councillors in that electoral constituency; the constituency electoral bureau shall distribute to each list as many mandates as the number of times the electoral quotient is included in the total number of votes validly cast for that list; also, the independent candidate having obtained a number of votes at least equal to the electoral quotient shall be declared elected. The votes remaining after the mandate distribution, as well as those lower than the electoral quotient shall be considered unused votes for each list of candidates of political parties, political alliances and electoral alliances;

b) if a political party, political alliance or electoral alliance or organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities taking part in the elections has been allotted, based on the electoral quotient, more mandates than the number of candidates enlisted, the extra mandates received shall become available and be distributed in the second stage, according to the provisions of paragraphs (13) to (18);

c) in the second stage, the constituency electoral bureau shall distribute the unassigned mandates, based on a table including the political parties, political alliances, electoral alliances and organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities having reached the electoral threshold, in the decreasing order of the number of votes unused; the unassigned mandates shall be distributed to the political parties, political alliances and electoral alliances, in the order of their registration in the table, one for each political party, political alliance and electoral alliance. If all mandates cannot be distributed, the operation shall be repeated until they are exhausted. If one or more organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, other than the Hungarian one, have reached the electoral threshold, but not the electoral quotient, thus obtaining no mandate in the first stage, the provisions of paragraph (8) shall apply for the mandate distribution.

(5) If one or several organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities reach both the electoral threshold and the electoral quotient, they shall take part in the mandate distribution both in the first stage and in the second stage, within the limits of the votes remained unused, as any other political party. The independent candidates having obtained a number of votes validly cast lower than the electoral quotient set shall not take part in the second stage of councillor mandate distribution. If a political party, political alliance or electoral alliance has been allotted, in the first stage, a number of mandates equal to the number of candidatures on the list, it shall not participate in the second stage of the mandate distribution even if it has unused votes.

(6) The votes remaining after the distribution of the mandates in the first stage, as well as the votes validly cast for the political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances that, although having reached the electoral threshold, have not participated in the first stage of the mandate distribution because the number of votes received is lower than the electoral quotient shall be considered unused votes for each list of candidates of the political parties, political alliances, electoral alliances and organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities.

(7) If none of the organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, other than the Hungarian one, has obtained any mandate, a councillor mandate shall be allotted, from those remaining after the first stage, to the organisation having reached the electoral threshold and having obtained the highest number of votes validly cast from among all these organisations.

(8) In the second stage, the electoral bureau shall firstly allot, where appropriate, a mandate to an organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities, other than the Hungarian one, if, in the first stage, no organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities has obtained any mandate.

(9) If no organisation of the Hungarian minority has obtained any mandate, the provisions of paragraph (8) are duly applicable to the latter as well.

(10) If there are 2 or more organisations with the same number of validly cast votes, the selection is done by random draw.

(11) The president of the constituency electoral bureau shall organize the random draw immediately after ascertaining the impossibility of applying the selection criteria set out in paragraph (1) for the registration of political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances on the list, in the presence of the majority of its members.

(12) The procedure shall be mentioned as such in the report drawn up by the members of the constituency electoral bureau in the column 'Brief account of the objections and challenges filed and the decisions rendered by the constituency electoral bureau that are final', with a clear indication of the organisation elected by random draw.

(13) After the mandate distribution, where the conditions set out in paragraph (8) are met, by the organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities, other than the Hungarian one, the electoral bureau shall allot a mandate to each political party, political alliance and electoral alliance having reached the electoral threshold, in the order of their registration in a decreasingly ordered table, depending on the number of unused votes; if all mandates cannot be distributed, the operation shall be repeated until they are exhausted.

(14) If the conditions set out in paragraph (8) are not met, and if at least one organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities, other than the Hungarian one, of the organisations having reached the electoral threshold, also meets the condition of the electoral quotient, respectively it has received mandates in the first stage, then it shall participate in the second stage of the mandate distribution as well, within the limits of the votes remained unused. The other organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, having not reached the electoral quotient and, therefore, having received no mandate in the first stage, shall not take part in the second stage redistribution.

(15) If, during the second stage of the mandate distribution, a political party, political alliance or electoral alliance, organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities completes its number of mandates according to 'the list of candidatures' submitted, before the exhaustion of all the mandates available, the respective organisation shall no longer receive any more mandates; the distribution of the remaining available mandates shall be done by continuing with the other organisations on the lists, until their full distribution.

(16) If during the operations stipulated under paragraphs (13) and (14), it is found that 2 or more political parties, organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, political alliances or electoral alliances have the same number of unused votes, before the last mandate to be distributed is assigned, such a mandate shall be distributed to the political party, political alliance, organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities or electoral alliance having obtained the highest number of validly cast votes.

(17) If the number of validly cast votes is equal, the mandate shall be distributed by random draw; the president of the constituency electoral bureau shall organize the random draw immediately after ascertaining the impossibility of applying the selection criteria set out in paragraph (7) for the registration of political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances on the list, in the presence of the majority of its members.

(18) The procedure shall be mentioned as such in the report drawn up by the members of the constituency electoral bureau in the column 'Brief account of the objections and challenges filed and the decisions rendered by the constituency electoral bureau that are final', with a clear indication of the organisation elected by random draw.

(19) If during the operations stipulated under paragraph (4), it is found that 2 or more political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances have the same number of unused votes, before the last mandate to be distributed is assigned, such a mandate shall be distributed to the political party, political alliance or electoral alliance having obtained the highest number of validly cast votes; if the number of validly cast votes is equal, the distribution of the mandate shall be done by random draw.

(20) The president of the constituency electoral bureau shall organize the random draw immediately after ascertaining the impossibility of applying the selection criteria for the registration of political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances on the list, in the presence of the majority of its members.

(21) The procedure shall be mentioned as such in the report drawn up by the members of the constituency electoral bureau in the column 'Brief account of the objections and challenges filed and the decisions rendered by the constituency electoral bureau that are final', with a clear indication of the organisation elected by random draw.

(22) The mandates shall be assigned by the constituency electoral bureau in the order of registration of the candidates on the list, and it shall begin with the list of candidates for which the most votes have been cast.

(23) If a political party, political alliance or electoral alliance should be assigned more mandates than the number of candidates enlisted, the remaining mandates shall be assigned to the other lists of candidates or to independent candidates, according to the provisions of paragraph (4).

(24) If, following the first stage of distribution, there are still mandates left to distribute, and, for the second stage, there are political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances having received at least a mandate in the first stage and having no unused votes, such shall be registered on the list of the political organisations entering the second stage of distribution, with 0 votes unused.

(25) If 2 or more political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances have 0 unused votes, their registration on the list shall be done based on the number of validly cast votes obtained.

(26) If no differentiation can be made between the political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances even by using the criterion set out in paragraph (3), their registration on the lists shall be done by random draw.

(27) The president of the constituency electoral bureau shall organize the random draw immediately after ascertaining the impossibility of applying the selection criteria set out in paragraph (25) for the registration of political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances on the list, in the presence of the majority of its members.

(28) The procedure shall be mentioned as such in the report drawn up by the members of the constituency electoral bureau in the column 'Brief account of the objections and challenges filed and the decisions rendered by the constituency electoral bureau that are final', with a clear indication of the organisation elected by random draw.

(29) If no political party, political alliance or electoral alliance reaches the electoral threshold, and the number of independent candidates having reached the electoral quotient is lower than the number of councillor mandates in that constituency, the difference in mandates shall be distributed to the first 3 political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances, in the decreasing order of the number of votes validly cast for each of them. One mandate shall be distributed to each political party, political alliance or electoral alliance. The operation shall be repeated until all mandates are exhausted. If 2 or more political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances thus selected have the same number of validly cast votes, and if it is impossible to differentiate between the first 3, the differentiation shall be made by random draw.

(30) The president of the constituency electoral bureau shall organize the random draw immediately after ascertaining the impossibility of applying the selection criteria set out in paragraph (29) for the registration of political parties, political alliances or electoral alliances on the list, in the presence of the majority of its members.

(31) The procedure shall be mentioned as such in the report drawn up by the members of the constituency electoral bureau in the column 'Brief account of the objections and challenges filed and the decisions rendered by the constituency electoral bureau that are final', with a clear indication of the organisation elected by random draw.

(32) The provisions of paragraph (29) shall also apply if none of the political organisations or independent candidates on the ballot paper reaches the electoral quotient.

(33) The candidates on the lists, that have not been elected, are declared alternates for the respective lists. In case of vacancy of the mandates of councillors elected on lists of candidates, the alternates shall occupy the vacant positions, in the order in which they are registered on the lists if, until the validation of the mandate for occupying the vacant position, the political parties or organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, on behalf of which the alternates have stood as candidates, shall confirm, in writing, under the signature of the county managements of the political parties or organisations of citizens belonging to national minorities, that the alternates are members of the respective political party or organisation of citizens belonging to national minorities.

Article 101. – (1) For the mayor’s office, the constituency electoral bureau shall centralise the votes.

(2) The candidate having obtained the highest number of validly cast votes shall be declared mayor.

(3) A second round of elections shall be organised, 2 weeks after the first round, in the event of a tie between several candidates, and only the candidates in this situation shall participate in it.

Art. 101¹. – (1) For the position of president of the county council, the centralization of the votes shall be made by the county constituency electoral bureau.

(2) The candidate who received the greatest number of cast valid votes shall be declared president of the county council.

(3) In case of a tie, a new round of voting shall be organized 2 weeks after the first round, to which shall participate only the candidates who are in this situation.*
